

Healing the Daughter of the Canaanite Woman

The evangelist speaks against the woman, that he may show forth her marvellous act, and celebrate her praise the more. For when you hear of a Canaanitish woman, you should call to mind those wicked nations, who overset from their foundations the very laws of nature. And being reminded of these, consider also the power of Christ's advent. For they who were cast out, that they might not pervert any Jews, these appeared so much better disposed than the Jews, as even to come out of their coasts, and approach Christ; while those were driving Him away, even on His coming unto them.

Having then come unto Him, she says nothing else, but Have mercy on me, and by her cry brings about them many spectators. For indeed it was a pitiful spectacle to see a woman crying aloud in so great affliction, and that woman a mother, and entreating for a daughter, and for a daughter in such evil case: she not even venturing to bring into the Master's sight her that was possessed, but leaving her to lie at home, and herself making the entreaty.

But having described both her calamity, and the intensity of the disease, she pleads the Lord's mercy, and cries aloud; and she says not, Have mercy on my daughter, but, Have mercy on me.

St. John Chrysostom

God With Us Publications will host the first webinar series of 2023. On Wednesday, January 18 will be the second session by Fr. Thomas Moses speaking on Lifting the Veil: A Mystical Understanding of the Divine Liturgy. Register at <https://godwithusonline.org/events/lifting-the-veil/>. Guided by Scripture, and saints such as such as Maximos the Confessor and Symeon of Thessaloniki, we will explore the Church's mystical interpretation of the Divine Liturgy in order to understand how it draws us to participate in the entirety of salvation. What better way to embark on the new year than with a renewed appreciation for the Divine Liturgy?

The pastor preached to his congregation about the bad influence of televisions on Christians. He exhorted everyone to do what he did in his own home. "I believe everyone should put their TVs in the closet and leave them there."

His wife turned around to a friend and shared, "Yes, but it's getting pretty crowded in there."

For all Christians:
May we live out our baptismal call to proclaim the Gospel of God's love and the dignity of every human life;

Let us pray to the Lord: Lord have mercy.

January is Pro-Life Month. Go to <https://www.respectlife.org/9-days-signup> to find out more.

“When we encounter Christ, experience his love, and deepen our relationship with him, we become more aware of our own worth and that of others. His love for each person is cause for great joy, and growing understanding of this priceless treasure motivates us to share his love with others. Our lives are often changed by the witness of others; so too, others’ lives may be changed by our witness and authentic friendship with them.”
